IT TAKES A BIG MAN - TO WEAR THE BRONZE STAR AND THE PURPLE HEART

Lance Diestelhorst is only five-foot-seven. But that didn't stop him from being a hero in Vietnam. How did he do it? Nothing to it: simply unscrambled a major enemy tunnel complex, cleaned out the Viet Cong inside, captured a big load of weapons and documents, and saved the lives of two buddies. A hard act to follow? Not for Diestelhorst. Next time around he emptied a three-man booby trap, after taking six grenades head on. They were duds, but he didn't know it. And they came at him one by one. All in the line of duty? Depends where you draw that line.
